PHONES DEAD AFTER RAIN STORM

TELEPHONES OUT OF SERVICE CABLE SOAKED
BY RAIN WATER

Putnam county was hit by a heavy rainstorm Saturday night when the total amount of an inch on the Daily gauge.

The night's storm also caused a number of telephones in the northern section of the county to go out of service.
Business was somewhat hampered by the "dead" Monday.

It was reported later Monday that approximately 200 telephones were out of order and a Lafayette repair crew came to Greencastle and the local staff in getting the lines back in service.

It was reported that rain water had seeped under the telephone lines west from the telephone exchange in the alley between Washington and Walnut streets. Workers drained water from the manhole near the Public office on Jackson street this morning so the lines could get to the cable.

Popular Movie Actor Is Dead

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 19.— Morgan, 59, well-known character actor, was found dead in bed at his home in Woodstock.

He was a housekeeper and had been in his room for several days. He had been ill and did not disturb his wife.

Mrs. Morgan said she found that he was not breathing and called an inhalation. However, efforts to resuscitate him were unavailing.

Morgan's latest film appearance was in "The Stratton Story" in the role of a baseball player. He was one of the veterans in such pictures as "The Ziegfeld," "Wizard of Oz," "Morty Flat," and "White Malice."

The actor was an ardent golfer. In 1947 he won the title to Honolulu yacht club on his schooner, Dolphin II.
Morgan's real name was William Morgan.

Shuey Reports On Bond Sales

Individual investors in Putnam county are holding $5,890,000.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds at the present time, according to Albert Shuey, Putnam county savings bonds chairman. Mr. Shuey commented that "although sales reached their peak in 1945, the people in our county are holding more savings bonds at the present time than at any period since the inception of the program."

According to Mr. Shuey, this $5,890,000.00 investment is earning $162,000.00 of interest per year for Putnam county residents. "The potential buying power of these bond-buyers and bond-holders could give the county an unprecedented economic lift if an emergency should arise."

"Through banks, post offices and both large and small businesses and industrial firms on payroll savings plans throughout the state, Hoosiers have invested over one billion dollars in U. S.
Savings Bonds during the last decade," according to Robert W.
Fowler, Acting State Director for the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division in Indianapolis.

"This billion dollar business is earning thrift-minded citizens of Indiana nearly 32 millions of dollars in interest each year. And bond sales, in contrast to those of other businesses, are increas-

Cloverdale Post Will Aid Vets

The American Legion will assist all local veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance Dividends.

This was announced today by Ivan Craggs, commander of the Hurst-Collins Post No. 281 of The American Legion of Cloverdale.

"Our post will have the necessary applications which veterans will have to make to the VA to get their NSLI dividends," Commander Craggs said. "Every veteran who held his NSLI policy for 90 days or more will have a refund coming to him. The VA expects to pay out approximately $2,800,000 in these refunds. Payments per veteran are expected to average about $175 according to the VA. Applications should be filed as quickly as possible because it will take weeks and months for a veteran to get his refund check."

Actually, Commander Craggs explained, the American Legion will put on the biggest manhunt in history in trying to locate veterans who are eligible for the NSLI refunds.
"The VA estimates that some 16,000,000 veterans are entitled to NSLI refunds," Commander Craggs said. "Actually today the VA has the home address of only six million of eligible veterans. The American Legion will help it to locate 10,000,000 others."

CURRENCY IS DEVALUATED BY 11 NATIONS

GREAT BRITAIN TAKES IN-ITIATIVE IN SWEEPING
MONETARY ACTION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—
(UP)—Another sunburst of currency devaluation was expected today or within the week by nations eager to sell more goods in the United States because they want our dollars.

The overall devaluation will tend to open American markets to cheapened foreign goods and to make competition stiffer against American goods in most foreign markets.

Great Britain and 10 other nations have announced currency devaluation in the past 24 hours —The British that their pound sterling had been reduced in price from $4.03 to $2.80. That is about what the pound actually has been worth but it had been pegged at the false and higher level.

The executive board of the International Monetary Fund, which cleared the British and other devaluations, planned to meet here today ready for more devaluation business. The nations which acted with Great Britain were: Australia, South Africa, Ireland, Norway, India, Denmark, Israel, Burma, Egypt and New Zealand.

There was expectation here that Pakistan, Ceylon, Iceland, The Netherlands, Iraq and perhaps Sweden, France and Italy would be next on the band wagon.

Administration experts welcomed British devaluation as a move toward getting the United Kingdom off the American taxpayers' backs. But there were urgent protests from some Republican congressmen that the whole operation would loose a flood of cheap foreign goods to hurt our own industry and take away our own workers' jobs.
Others said the British must go farther and curtail some of their costly welfare state experiments.

Everyone agreed that currency devaluation for the British was a stopgap, shot-in-the-arm temporary measure. Its effects cannot last. It will have no effect at all unless the British government can hold the line against labor demands for higher pay and, in the long run, bring production costs down on a permanent basis.

British devaluation came with the blessing and probably after the informal urging of the Truman administration. It supporters describe it as part of a program designed to keep the western democracies strong and dominant in the cold war against the Soviet Union. The Kremlin, meantime, hopefully awaits financial collapse and political disaster in the West.

When both Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder and Congress were sturdily opposed to increasing loans or grants, London had hardly any alternative to devaluation.

VFW Post 1550 Plans Celebration For Fathers' Auxiliary October 23

A big celebration is being arranged by Gen. Jesse M. Lee Post 1550 on Sunday, October 23, for the Fathers' Auxiliary, the first organization of its kind in the United States.

A banquet will be held at the Post Home at 6 p. m., followed by a public obligation ceremony at the high school gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Leon King, of Indianapolis, Indiana Department Chief of Staff, and a former State Veterans of Foreign Wars Commander, will administer the obligation to the Fathers' Auxiliaries of Post 1550 and also Oliver James Post 459.
Mr. King will also install the officers of the latter Auxiliary. Officers of the Fathers' Auxiliary of VFW Post 1550 were installed by Mr. King last July 24, when the organization was formally presented with a Charter.

State Commander John G.
Tinder, State Adjutant James Harrod and other departmental officers will attend this big meeting. Governor Henry F.
Schickler has been invited and it is believed that he will be here if at all possible.

The celebration marks the action by the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Miami in August. At that time, a resolution was passed by the convention "authorizing and encouraging the formation of Fathers' Auxiliaries." It was also stated that the legal staff of the National Department will have changes in the VFW Constitution and By-Laws prepared for the 1950 national convention in Chicago which will give the Fathers' organization the same status as the Ladies' Auxiliary.

A resolution approving the Fathers' Auxiliary, formed in Greencastle, was passed by the state VFW convention in Indianapolis in June.

Gen. Jesse M. Lee Post has the distinction of sponsoring the first Fathers' Auxiliary in the country. Several preliminary meetings, the last of April and during the month of May, resulted in 110 fathers of overseas veterans of World Wars I and II, becoming charter members. The total membership at present is 121 with more than 200 Dads expected to join by the first of the year. The charter for the auxiliary was drawn by Paul Davison, Commander of VFW Post 1550. Lawrence (Bud) Miller, a member of Post 1550, is credited with the idea of organizing a Fathers' Auxiliary and it was largely due to his personal efforts that the movement has become a success.

Post 1550 is receiving inquiries almost daily regarding the Fathers' Auxiliary, not only from VFW Posts in Indiana but other states as well. It is predicted that by next summer there will be several hundred similar auxiliaries and that the organization will continue to grow until the entire country is covered.

Aid Bill Fight Opens In Senate

(UP)—Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex., issued an "all-or-nothing" challenge to the Senate today as it prepared to debate the administration's $1,314,010,000 bill for arms aid to anti-Communist nations.

"Half-way measures are not enough," he said. "Senators ought to be willing to undertake the program to the extent necessary to do some good or be against it entirely."

Connally, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, made the statement in an interview just before opening debate on the controversial military program which military assistance program the Senate economy bloc is out to trim by $700,000,000.

Sen. Walter F. George, D., Ga., a leader of the economy group, said the full amount asked for the Atlantic pact nations would be "a waste of money (because) ... we'll have to do it all over again when the pact nations draft their common defense plans."

Connally took a different view.
He cited the military high command set-up agreed on by the pact countries here Saturday as evidence that defense planning on a cooperative basis will be well started before Congress makes any arms available.

Released From Leper's Colony

CARVILLE, La., Sept. 19.— (UP)—A retired army major, who braved three years in a leper's colony to be near his stricken wife, carried her today toward their new home where they can live together under one roof.

Mrs. Hans Hornbostel was released from the National Leprosarium here yesterday, the first time she had known freedom in more than six years.

She and her loyal husband borrowed a station wagon and headed for Long Island, N. Y. The New York State Health officer has granted her permission to take private treatments there without segregation.

The Hornbostels were separated for the first time when both became wartime prisoners of the Japanese. She was liberated three years later, but in June, 1946, she was confined again in the leper colony.

Steamer Crew Is Questioned

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 19.— (UP)—The government today ordered the crew of the lake steamer Noronic to a secret inquiry to check "all aspects" of the dockside fire which killed at least 119 panic-stricken passengers.

Questioning of the crew began as five divers descended again into submerged sections of the charred hull of the 6,905-ton pleasure boat to search for bodies of 171 passengers still listed as missing.

Officials doubted, however, that the death toll would rise much higher. Some 361 of the ship's $85 passengers were reported safe, with 34 in hospital. It was believed that most of those unaccounted for had left the scene for their homes without reporting their escape.

Only 29 of the 119 bodies recovered had been identified.

The Canadian transport Department said its official investigator, Capt. William N. Morris-son, would interview officers and crew members of the ill-fated vessel behind closed doors on "all aspects of the disaster."

This confidential inquiry preceded a formal government investigation, to be open to the public, later this week, the department said.

Three other investigations to determine the cause of the tragedy also were underway.
They were being conducted by the Canada steamship lines, owner of the vessel, city officials of Cleveland, and the insurance firm which had insured the ship for $1,600,000.

Not far from the wreckage strewn dock where the "Queen of the Lakes" burned Saturday morning at her moorings, weary Red Cross and Salvation Army workers and medical officials continued their grim task of identifying charred bodies.

Falls To Death At Statehouse

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 19.— (UP)—A 74-year-old Negro employee fell two floors to his death today in the Indiana statehouse and police said it was "suicide without a doubt."

John Taylor, Indianapolis, was employed as a basement custodian.
He reported to work some 45 minutes before his body was found on the marble main floor of the capitol. Fellow employees could not explain what Taylor was doing on the fourth floor, where he was heard moving about only a few minutes before he fell.

Police said Taylor was given a mental examination last week, and released from a mental hospital only last Saturday.

Dr. Hutcheson Says:

The doctors, and hospitals widespread understanding

The Foundation is now in U. S. FACES INDUSTRIAL PARALYSIS

COAL MINERS WALKOUT, STEEL STRIKE AFFECT NATION'S BUSINESS

By United Press
More than 30,000 miners in Illinois and Indiana refused to work today under what one mine spokesman called the United Mine Workers' new "no pension, no work" policy.

A few showed up for the first shift today, according to mine officials, but they left when the rest of the shift failed to show.

In Illinois, 25,000 miners refused to work, in Indiana 5,000 miners refused to enter the pits.

The miners refused to work because their pension fund payments had been halted. John L.
Lewis, UMW president, stopped pension payments last Friday because coal operators had refused to make fair payments to the UMW fund.

Industrial paralysis threatened the nation today as John L. Lewis' soft coal diggers went on strike against the big eastern mines and a nationwide walkout appeared virtually certain.

The threat of a steel strike was so grave that President Truman was reported ready to intervene personally to try to head it off.

Unless someone pulled a miracle within 24 to 48 hours it appeared that almost 1,000,000 workers would be on strike by the end of the week, 400,000 in the coal industry and 500,000 in steel.

The coal walkout alone, if it lasts long enough, will clamp a slow freeze on U. S. industrial production for lack of fuel.
Coupled with a steel strike that would cut off raw materials, the effect could be disastrous, economists warned.

Chief Federal mediator Cyrus Ching met with CIO President Philip Murray and steel executives today in an attempt to settle their dispute. Murray demanded that the firms accept a presidential fact-finding board's recommendation for a company-financed 19-cent hourly benefit program. The companies insisted that workers should help finance the program.

It was reported that President Truman was ready to offer a settlement formula similar to one he produced, and the disputants accepted, in 1946.

But some observers pointed out that the coal strike may have stolen the lightning from the CIO steelworkers' dispute with the industry because a long bituminous shutdown would have closed the steel mills anyway.

Local area local of the United Mine Workers met yesterday and voted against returning to the pits today. In some areas, no meetings were held but UMW officials gave the tip-off by saying: "It's up to the men whether they want to work."

But UMW headquarters issued no official strike call. Lewis planned to meet tomorrow with southern producers at Bluefield, W. Va., and with northern and western operators at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Wednesday.

Throughout the coalfields, the rallying cry was "No welfare payments; no work."

The men, who have worked a three-day week since the UMW operator contracts expired June 30, were acting in resentment to

Crawford-Rowland Wedding Sunday

A beautiful and impressive rite united in marriage Miss Doris Jean Rowland and Donald Eugene Crawford, on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18, at 2:30 in the First Christian church. The Rev. Ralph Saunders read the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli, white chrysanthemums, and palms and lighted by two candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alta M. Rowland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crawford.

Preceding the ceremony William Lockwood sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Meredith at the organ, who played bridal airs during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Daniel B. Rowland, ascended the altar on a white aisle cloth. She was lovely in a gown of candlelight slipper satin. The high round neckline and basque bodice accented by a V shawl effect of Chantilly lace. The same lace formed panels down each side of the front of the skirt and extended completely around the train. Her bouquet was of Fijian mums and philodendron.

The maid of honor, Miss Suzanne Rowland, sister of the bride, wore a gown of tulle gold. The basque bodice and tiny sleeves were outlined with a wide bertha collar caught at the shoulders. Rows of tiny buttons down the front pointed toward the voluminous skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet with green and gold satin streamers. The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Lou Williams, Miss Marilyn Kersey and Miss Bonita Williams, cousins of the bride, wore gowns of French Pine, Forest Green and Fall Rust fashioned like that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of bronze daisy type pompons tied with green and gold satin streamers.

The attendants wore strands of pearls, gifts of the bride. The best man was Dr. Theodore Crawford of Terre Haute, brother of the groom. Ushers were Stanley South, Claire Williams, Firman Grimes and Harold Coffman.

The bride's mother wore a lavender blue dress with matching hat and black accessories. She wore a corsage of feathered yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom's mother wore a wine crepe dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage. Immediately following the ceremony a reception in the parlor of the church. Assisting were Mrs. Betty Williams, Mrs. Betty Ogles and Mrs. Florence Baldwin.

The couple left on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a navy suit with navy and mauve accessories and a gardenia corsage.

They will reside in an apartment in the Crawford Annex. The bride is a graduate of the Greencastle High School and Central Business College of Indianapolis, and is now employed at the county agent's office.

The groom is a graduate of the Greencastle High School and attended DePauw University and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Crawford, Miss Florence Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Crawford and daughter, of Terre Haute; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Calloway of Onarga, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Harlan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ader of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hunt of Arcadia; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kersey of New Port; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Plummer and daughter of Rockville.

New Plan to Ease Loss Of Wages Due To Sickness

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—The New York State's new disability benefits law brings a new approach to a complex social problem.

The new law will become effective July 1, 1950. It provides for weekly cash payments to replace in part wages lost as result of non-occupational sickness and accidental injury.

The law, it was emphasized by Miss Mary Donlon, chairman of the workmen's compensation board, will have great meaning to millions of breadwinners, who have had no incomes when the weekly pay checks were stopped by sickness or injury not arising out of employment.

The state already has a system of occupational disability benefits, commonly known as workmen's compensation, which are administered under Miss Donlon's direction.

Her board also will have charge of the new system, and Miss Donlon says that in linking the two administrations, New York has avoided setting up a new agency of government to do a job that one already well established is qualified to do.

"Here we have no tax collecting and benefit dispensing bureaucracy," she said. "There is a minimum of state interference with industrial relations."

"Voluntary welfare plans, under which more than 50 per cent of the workers in New York State already qualify for disability benefits, are carefully preserved. New plans that may be worked out through agreement or collective bargaining are encouraged."

"Official red tape is reduced to a minimum and there is a maximum of reliance on the capacity of management and labor to work out, as they can in most instances the solutions best adapted to their own particular needs."

"In short, the new law does not put either business or labor into a statutory straight-jacket, but rather preserves contractual relations and protects the time-honored traditions of the free enterprise system."

SMALL ECONOMY SIZE

BUDAPEST (UP)—The Hungarians claim they have solved the problem of what to do with the little piece of soap which always seems to be just a little too small to continue to use.

Announcing "economy soap," the Hungarians said they have solved the problem of "the little piece of soap that is always lost."

The economy cake has a slit in one side into which the last remnants of the old cake is slipped.

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDIS

"Do you believe in Magic?"

That is the question one of my readers asked me in today's mail.

He explained that he had been at a performance the night before where a man who called himself a magician had done some of the most astonishing tricks, tricks that could not be called anything else but magic.

"Is there such a thing as magic?" asked this reader. "Do you believe in magic? Can you explain it?"

Quite a dish to digest, isn't it?

But I can answer his questions without a moment's hesitation.

Of course, I believe in Magic, but not the kind to which any questioner refers.

There definitely is such a thing as Magic, the kind in which I believe.

Magic, according to the dictionary, is something that seemingly requires more than human power; that is startling in performance; that produces effects which seem supernatural. I agree with everything in the dictionary definition except the words "seemingly" and "seem."

There is magic around us every day.

The first evidence of magic in life is Birth.

Who can explain it? What human being can create another human being by himself alone?

The magic that begins with Birth goes on.

The new-born baby is unconscious of everything around him. In a few weeks he smiles, he notices things, he recognizes his mother and father. Then he walks and talks and grows and develops. He begins to think and to assume responsibilities.

Isn't that Magic?

Can you explain it? Can anyone explain it, any more than one can explain the growth of lovely flowers and stately trees from tiny seeds?

Love comes into the boy's or girl's life.

There, indeed, is Magic for you!

Love, with all its beauty and all its sorrows; the love of a mother for her children, of a husband for his wife, the love of two sweethearts for each other.

Would you want any better proof than that that Magic exists?

What else but Magic is Faith? The faith for which people have dared and died, the faith that is the seed from which all Progress and all Success must grow?

What else but Magic are the Soul and the Conscience which keep men from evil and are the fountain from which all decency, charity and kindness flow?

There is Magic in laughter and Magic in tears.

There is Magic in healing. There is Magic in remembering and in forgetting.

There is not a minute of the day that does not contain the very Magic of being alive.

Yes, dear reader, I believe in Magic just as I believe in God, the great Magician.

PURDUE ADVISES

LAFAYETTE, Ind. Sept. 19—(INS) — Purdue University agronomists today advised Hoosier farmers on crops to be used in place of the reduced wheat acreage allotments.

Winter barley was advised for farmers in the southern half of the state, but was described as "not sufficiently winter hardy" for northern Indiana in most cases. Spring Barley is adapted only to northern Indiana.

Winter oats also should be restricted to the southern third of the state, while rye can be used throughout the state. Also spring oats was suggested as a logical crop to supplement wheat land.

TELLTALE BREATH ROUTS BEDROOM INTRUDER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—A San Antonio woman routed an intruder from her bed because a summer breeze wafted an alcoholic breath.

It was a dark night and a man crawled into her bed. The woman, half-rousing from her sleep, asked:

"Is that you, honey?"

"Yes," came the answer, and the woman screamed. She knew then that it was not her husband, a night worker who always came home late.

"My husband doesn't drink," she explained.

IF there is one joke about old age and the infirmities thereof that Al Jolson, George Jessel, and Eddie Cantor haven't pulled on one another in their many radio programs and banquet speeches, it is not the fault of their industrious gag writers and researchers. The "latest" has Mrs. Cantor surveying Jolson's huge collection of medicine bottles without labels. "How can he tell which one he's supposed to use?" she asks Cantor.

"What's the difference?" he answers. "No matter what they're for, Jolson's got it."

Russel Crouse, co-author of Life with Mother, decided to catch the Wednesday matinee of a two-day-old play that had been accorded murderous notices by the critics. Anxious to avoid giving the impression that he was coming to gloat over the corpse Crouse sidled unobtrusively to the box-office and said, "I'd like a seat in the last row of the orchestra." The treasurer looked surprised, but handed him a ticket. "This is in Row D," protested Crouse. "I asked for the last row." "Mister," said the treasurer, "at this performance Row D is the last row."

WAY FOUND TO FREEZE EGGS IN THEIR SHELLS

GARY, Ind. (UP)—That ororous concoction Army overseas cooks called scrambled eggs may be missing from the mess hall menu of future GIs.

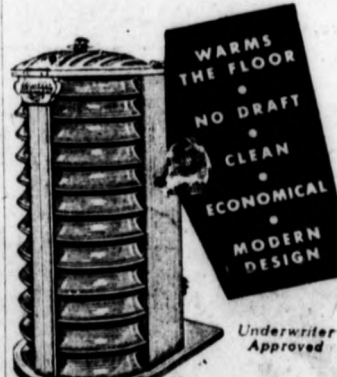

A Louisiana State University biochemist has figured out a way to freeze eggs in the shell, the National Patent Council reports. The council also reports that it makes shipping of eggs easy enough so that they can be sent to overseas military personnel.

Dr. Socrates Kaloyereas' method is designed to preserve the eggs without any loss of weight or flavor. The present method of freezing eggs demands they be removed from the shell before freezing.

Now, all that is changed. Bruel, driving in his car, was bumped by another car at an intersection. There was no light, and both drivers claimed the right-of-way.

After the argument, Bruel headed to city hall, and immediately recommended that 12 new lights be put up.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(UP)—Congress headed into the home stretch today with administration leaders determined to push for action on a half dozen "must" bills.

But there appeared to be little chance that the major part of President Truman's legislative program would be acted on between now and the session's end, expected about mid-October. Democratic leaders were resigned to postponing until the second session of the 81st Congress such controversial proposals as the Taft-Hartley repealer, compulsory health insurance and federal aid to education.

Flying Fortress Employed As Cupid's Aide

LONDON, Sept. 19. (INS)—This is the story of a general, a sergeant, his wife and a Flying Fortress.

The wife begins the story. British-born Margaret came from their home in Colorado Springs, Colo., to join her husband, Sergeant Urban Sigleton, serving with the U. S. Air Force in London.

Margaret was expecting a baby but found it impossible to get into a British hospital. All beds were full.

The sergeant relates the second chapter.

"The U. S. Air Force put a plane at her disposal and flew her to the U. S. Hospital in Frankfurt, Germany.

"A bit later I happened to mention to one of my officers in

The General, Leon Johnson, commanding the U. S. Third Air Division, heard the news from one of the sergeant's officers.

Contributing the third chapter he said: "O. K., take my plane and bring them back home."

The Flying Fortress set out with a crew of five and the sergeant. It carried a full range of medical equipment and oxygen supplies.

It picked up Margaret and 11-day old John Michael and brought them—in style—to London's Northolt airdrome.
